

Yoke Chin has dedicated over four decades to training in the rare and profound Water Tradition of Daoist Tai Chi, Qigong, and Meditation. With more than 30 years of teaching experience, she carries a lineage that flows directly from the great masters—beginning with her foundational training under the late Grandmaster Huang Sheng Shyan, and continuing under the guidance of current water lineage holder and Taoist master Bruce Frantzis, student of the enlightened Taoist Grandmaster Liu Hung Chieh.

Yoke is a qualified and deeply experienced teacher and practitioner of this subtle, flowing tradition. Her approach is both gentle and hands-on, yet profoundly transformative. Through her teachings, students in Australia and around the world have discovered the art of releasing deeply held tensions in both body and mind, allowing health, vitality, and inner balance to naturally return.

As the ancient Daoist wisdom reminds us:

“The tiniest seed contains the entire universe.”

In this spirit, Yoke invites you to join her on a miraculous journey into the internal arts of Water Tradition Tai Chi, Qigong, and Daoist Meditation—where your body becomes the gateway to presence, healing, and spiritual unfolding.
